When you start playing Offroad Outlaws, you are given 30,000 gold, which you can use to purchase your first truck. A hint is given that the money is enough to buy a truck and a quad, which gives you two vehicle options. Of course, you can also use the entire money and purchase a more expensive truck. Once you've purchased your vehicle, you can start playing the game. There are four game modes available in this game. These include single-player, multiplayer, bounty trail, and trail runner.

You can select whatever mode you want to play in the game. Keep in mind that it's best to start with the singleplayer, bounty trail, or trail runner first. That way, you will get a feel of the game before you go battling against other players. Let's discuss the single-player mode since that's the best way to learn the game. You will have one map available at first. So, make sure to choose that and begin playing. Once you're on the map, you can use that moment to get familiar with the controls.

These controls include the go and stop pedals and the steering buttons. There's also a button for activating RWD, FWD, and 4X4 drive. In addition, a button for putting the gear in Hi or Low, a button for the light, and a view of the overall map are also available. There's also a button for the diff lock. After familiarizing yourself with the controls, you can start exploring the map. As you explore, you will encounter starting points.
