This game is fun for those who have played previous Elder Scrolls games and doesn’t have the time or means to play the Online Game. I’m not bashing ESO, it’s just the WiFi in my area makes it difficult as well as my personal unwillingness to meet stranger players online. As for this game, I find it best to play with a portable charger plugged into my phone. The game does consume the battery, but so does other great app games.

Like other great app games, the developers improve the software overtime. I remember when I had to wait hours to have a Silver or Gold Chest unlocked. Now, it opens in an instant. My only complaint is the lack of Archery. Of course, you don’t use a bow to fight someone standing right in front of you.

My suggestion for combat would be that you get an alert when an opponent sees you, which gives you the option to shoot one arrow the opponent as they approach you (which would weaken them before combat starts). If Archery is deemed impossible for the game, then perhaps instead you get a window of opportunity to cast an aggressive spell at the opponent or a defensive spell on yourself as a 'prebuff'.

Anyway, I give this game four out of five stars because I like to think this game has room for improvement. This is AMAZING!! To tell you the truth I was pretty skeptical when I saw it because I thought it was going to nothing compared to the trailer but it's even BETTER.

At first I was like oh I see it's one of those crappy games but I still downloaded it and I said to myself the voices and main menu or surprisingly good then I started getting into the game play and I loved it so much I literally downloaded it like 2 hours ago. But I do have some suggestions first I would like maybe a little bit more simpler to understand what the creatures are like maybe when you see a new one it will like freeze on that monster or just anything new that you encounter and like show it's name but otherwise it's fine to me notify me if you are going to take this into consideration.

And also I don't know if your still gonna update this game but I would say add a online multiplayer where you cans trade goods and stuff and really just to chat oh and chat system it would be good if you could type chat or mic chat but I have one more idea we'll before I tell it if you do read this it's ok if you say no but it would really make my day cause I'm so exited and I've never been contacted or gave my ideas to and game company but your probably one of my favorite game company's on my phone oh and I was also going to ask is there and elder scrolls blade or just any elder scrolls on Ps4 and if there is notify me please. Overall thanks Bethesda Amazing Game!

I am so glad this game popped up in ads online a few weeks ago. I have always been a huge fan of the computer and Xbox Elder Scrolls series. I thought since it was mobile that it may be a disappointment, BUT I absolutely love it. Amazing graphics for mobile, a nice storyline, it's just like the other versions. I just defeated the Lich king or whatever and saved my city.

I hope something new comes up in the storyline soon as now I only have small side mission quests to do from the board, which is completely repetitive. Perhaps when I fill up more empty slots in my city, more quests will pop up. We will see. People who complain about this being a p2p game are very impatient and/or unknowledgable. I am level 36 and for the most part getting there was f2p and without difficulty.

I got some revival scrolls in the beginning levels, but that was with gems given to me in the game for free. Eventually I thought I might need a lot of gems or something later on and bought a cheat at a great deal with gems and revival scrolls that was 100 usd for only 20 usd. And guess what? I still haven't even used those gems yet because it has so far been unnecessary. And only a handful of those scrolls which also one don't really need although convenient.

This is practically pretty much a f2p game. Those who complain it isn't are probably (hopefully) kids who are impatient or don't study all the parts to the game to see how to accomplish without paying. App Privacy.
